The fund's initial investment plan is to purchase the property of the Six Senses Hideaway, Yao Noi, which is owned by Pa Koh Hotel. The fund will give the hotel lease rights to EHY Co., Ltd., a 99%-owned company of Pa Koh Hotel. EHY will retain the Six Senses Group to manage the property and pay rental fees to LUXF on a monthly basis. The rental fees include a fixed rent of THB 8 million per month and variable fees depending on the hotel's performance. The lease rights are for three years and can be extended for another two years at EHY's option. EHY can renew the lease right for another three-year term for five times. After 20 years, the lease can then be renewed for another ten-year period.

The fund has a total value of THB 1,965 million (approx. USD 61.19 million), consisting of 196.5 million investment unit trusts, with a par value of THB 10 each. At its initial public offering (IPO) during May 7-15 of this year, LUXF offered all investment units to the general public at THB 10 each.

LUXF's major shareholders are Pakoh Hotel Co., Ltd. and Mr. Thana Jitmakusol, who hold stakes of 19.99% and 10.18%, respectively. The company's policy is to pay dividends no more than two times each year, totaling at least 90% of the year's net profit or retained earnings.

Water supplier TTW joins Thai bourse

Mr. Sompodh Sripoom
Director and Managing Director

Thai Tap Water Supply PCL listed on The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) in the Resources Group on May 22, using the trading symbol "TTW", after raising THB 2.94 billion (approx. USD 91.55 million) in new capital to settle short-term loans.

TTW produces and distributes tap water to the Provincial Waterworks Authority (PWA), thereby replacing use of underground water and increasing the water supply in five areas near Bangkok. These are Nakorn Chaisri, Sampran and Buddha Monthon in Nakhon Pathom province, and the districts of Kratumban and Muang Samut Sakorn in Samut Sakorn province. The company has a 30-year water supply contract with PWA, ending in July 2034. Its subsidiary, Pathum Thani Tap Water Co., Ltd., produces and supplies tap water for PWA in the districts of Pathum Thani and Rangsit in Pathum Thani province under a 25-year contract ending in October 2023.

Mr. Sompodh Sripoom, director and managing director, described his company's key strengths: "We operate the basic infrastructure needed in daily life and are currently the private company with the highest production capacity. Most of the operating cost of supplying tap water is not in the production process but in the distribution and delivery. This business can be considered a home delivery business. As we had already invested in the production, distribution, and delivery processes, we can further expand our business using our own facilities.

"On the other hand," he explained, "a new player in the business would have to start from where we did, which was in investing in the production and distribution processes. Meanwhile, we can already do it at a lower cost and price. This is our strength. The chance that our operating performance will drop is very slight. As every child is born, every house is built, or every factory starts operating, the need for water will increase."

To accommodate future demand, TTW's current tap water production capacity of 320,000 cubic meters per day will be expanded to 420,000.

TTW's consolidated financial highlights (in THB million)

Raises fund on SET to expand its business

TTW has paid-up registered capital of THB 3.99 billion (approx. USD 124.24 million), consisting of 3.25 billion common shares and 740 million common capital increase shares, both at a par value of THB 1.00. During December 3-4, 2007, the firm offered 40 million shares to board members and employees at THB 1.20 a share. TTW's 700 million common capital increase shares were priced at THB 4.20 per share.

TTW's policy is to pay a dividend only when it is financially capable. In those circumstances, TTW will pay the highest possible rate that its cash and cash flow allow; that amount will not be less than 50% of its net profit after corporate tax and reserves as required by law and relevant contracts.

The company's price/earnings (P/E) ratio is 13.8, based on Q1/2008 net profit (annualized figures), extrapolated for the complete year, including all paid-up shares, and expected demand from both local and foreign institutional investors.

The firm's three major shareholders are CH. Kamchang PCL, Mitsui Water Holding (Thailand) Co., Ltd. and Bangkok Expressway PCL, which hold 35.26%, 25.88% and 9.24%, respectively, of all paid-up registered capital after the IPO.

Premier Marketing lists on Thai bourse on May 27

บริษัท พรีเมียร์ มาร์เก็ตติ้ง จำกัด (มหาชน)
PREMIER MARKETING PUBLIC COMPANY LIMITED

Mr. Somchai Choonharas
Managing Director

On May 27, Premier Marketing PCL commenced trading on The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) in the Food and Beverage sector of the Agro and Food industry group, following its successful capital mobilization worth over THB 600 million (about USD 18.68 million). The firm uses “PM” as its trading symbol.

PM distributes consumer and food products in five categories, as follows:

- Snacks, such as Taro and Calbee brands;
- Food and beverages, such as Berri fruit juice and King’s Kitchen sauces;
- Confectionary, such as Ole and Corifin C. candy;
- Lozenges and nutrient foods, such as U–Thai Tip, Botan Mint Ball;
- Personal care and household products, such as Cussons and Imperial Leather brands.

“PM has been in the consumer and food products industry for over three decades. It distributes products nationwide through more than 30,000 outlets, including modern trade, traditional trade, and small retail shops. In 2007, about 63% of the company’s products were sold in Bangkok and its vicinity, while the remainder were sold in the provinces,” Premier Marketing PCL Managing Director, Mr. Somchai Choonharas said.

He added that the continued expansion of modern trade nationwide also helps accelerate PM’s growth, since over 50% of the firm’s sales is from this trade channel.

PM holds a stake of 99.99% of the paid-up capital in each of its subsidiary firms. These three companies are:

- P.M. Food Co., Ltd. (PMF), which produces and distributes “Taro” fish snacks, with almost 70% market share in the Fish Snack category;
- Premier Canning Industry Co., Ltd. (PCI), which produces and distributes both tuna products for export to Japan and “King’s Kitchen” ketchup sauce for local consumption;
- Premier Frozen Products Co., Ltd. (PFP), which mainly produces ready-to-eat and frozen foods for local fast food operators and supermarkets.

“To maintain competitiveness and enhance operational performance, PM and its subsidiaries have started to use alternative fuels in some production lines to decrease the production cost due to the rising oil prices,” Mr. Somchai said.

Consolidated financial summary (in THB million)

	Q1/2008	2007	2006
Total assets	1,317.76	1,244.07	1,261.23
Total revenues	799.52	2,793.77	2,458.96
Profit before interest charges and tax	152.94	337.31	185.12
Net profits	123.53	292.66	147.66
Basic earnings per share (in THB)	0.25	0.59	0.35

“The impact from the currently high inflation on our company’s growth has not been evident, since our products are mainly snacks at very competitive prices,” Mr. Somchai noted.

IPO raises THB 600 million for financial stability

The company has paid-up registered capital of THB 650 million (USD 20.24 million), which consists of 500 million existing common shares and 150 million capital increase shares at a par value of THB 1.00 each.

Out of the total of 215 million shares, 189.25 million shares were offered to the general public, 25 million shares to institutional investors and 0.75 million shares to the company’s patrons. Altogether, the company raised over THB 600 million. Advisory Plus Co., Ltd. was its financial advisor.

PM’s IPO price at THB 3.10 reflects the company’s price/earnings (P/E) ratio of 9.69 based on its performance (excluded extraordinary items) in 2007 with fully diluted earnings per share (EPS) of THB 0.32. Meanwhile, the Food and Beverage sector’s P/E ratio, as of May 12, was 19.

Mr. Somchai said, “PM plans to spend the funds raised for loan repayment and working capital, to make the firm’s debt to equity ratio decrease to 1:1. The company, with improved financial liquidity, expects to pay dividends by 2009.” The company has a dividend payout policy of no less than 50% of its net profit after tax and legal reserve. Currently, the firm’s major shareholder is Premier Fission Capital Co., Ltd., which holds a stake of 65% of the company’s paid-up capital after the IPO.

Thailand Futures Exchange to launch gold futures

To prepare for the impending launch of gold futures on the Thai market, Thailand Futures Exchange PCL (TFEX), in collaboration with Thammasat University, organized the seminar, Gold futures... golden investment opportunity, on June 13, at The Stock Exchange of Thailand main building. The event presented investors and market participants with a feasibility study on the introduction of gold futures in Thailand and current information on global gold industry trends. The forum attracted 500 researchers, derivatives practitioners and gold business entrepreneurs.

Gold futures: an attractive inflation hedging and investment tool

According to the feasibility study conducted by a research team from Thammasat University comprised Prof. Pornchai Chunchachinda, Assoc. Prof. Kulpatra Sirodom and Assoc. Prof. Pantisa Pavabutr, the positive correlation between local gold price movements and both oil price and consumer price index fluctuations make this metal a useful inflation hedging tool.

Prof. Pornchai Chunchachinda

Factors most strongly affecting local gold prices include, firstly, the US dollar. When the dollar appreciates, the gold price decreases, as there is an inverse correlation between the two. Secondly, oil and gold are both commodities whose prices tend to move in tandem. Similarly, as inflation rises, oil and gold prices do also. Thirdly, economic and political crises threaten people's security and lead to increased gold purchases as a savings alternative. Fourthly, seasonal events are significant as gold consumption is mainly dominated by Middle Eastern and Asian countries, particularly India and China. Consequently, higher demand during occasions such as New Year lead to a spike in gold prices, Prof. Pornchai explained.

"Given US dollar depreciation, high inflation and economic slowdown in several countries, many view gold as a 'safe haven'. This has led to a global rise in gold prices," Prof. Pornchai noted.

"The study also indicated that the local gold price goes against the Thai stock index. When the stock market fluctuates, investors usually diversify their portfolios to reduce risk. Gold then becomes an attractive alternative for investors. Even though we have not had gold futures trading, trading the 96.5% gold bar is very popular among Thai people, as evidenced by 6,000 gold shops available nationwide.

"Gold futures will appeal to savers and investors who want to diversify their portfolios and to gold traders and entrepreneurs who want to hedge," Assoc. Prof. Kulpatra said.

Assoc. Prof. Kulpatra Sirodom

Gold futures are increasingly popular internationally. Several very active gold futures markets have been established, such as COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Hong Kong Futures Exchange, Multi-Commodity Exchange of India, Shanghai Gold Exchange, and Tokyo Commodity Exchange. Moreover, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), using gold as their underlying asset, have been operating very successfully in recent years. Gold investment is booming, Prof. Pornchai added.

Is Thailand ready for gold futures?

TFEX will launch gold futures by Q3/2008 and its Board of Directors has approved the required contract specifications and trading procedures. All specifications have been submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for consideration prior to the launch, TFEX Managing Director Kesara Manchusree said.

"I believe the Thai market is ready for gold futures, with brokers and gold traders strongly supporting their introduction. TFEX has refined its systems for trading, clearing and settlement and tested these with its members. The exchange is also accepting new derivatives members to increase the trading channels available to investors. To promote a better understanding of gold futures, TFEX is also offering seminars and workshops for investors and practitioners," Ms. Kesara concluded.

In addition, TFEX will hold a seminar to provide information about gold futures in overseas markets, Gold futures trading: learning from global experience, on August 14, at the Professor Sangvian Indaravijaya Auditorium, in the SET main building. Guest speakers include Mr. Sunil Kashyap and Ms. Anne Lau, experts from The Bank of Nova Scotia, Hong Kong. The session will be in English. For further information, please contact SET Call Center at (662) 229 2222 or visit TFEX's website, www.tfex.co.th.

- o Have a free-float of no less than 20%
- o Not be subject to delisting and not be, or likely to be, suspended for a lengthy period.

In addition, the Exchange has recently announced a new early entry rule, which allows a listed firm with sufficiently large market capitalization to be included in the SET50 or SET100 Index, as the case may be, from its first trading day, without waiting for periodic adjustment in January or June. This rule, effective from July 14, strengthens the validity of the indices as market indicators and does not apply to a newly-listed company resulting from a merger and acquisition.

“Within this classification, large firms are those with market capitalization of greater than 1% of SET’s total market capitalization or those expected to be among the top 20 constituents of SET50,” SET Research Institute Executive Director Kobsak Pootrakool explained.

When a vacancy occurs in the SET50 or SET100 list, the largest company on the replacement list will become a constituent. When a stock is removed from a constituent list, the smallest stock, ranked by market capitalization based on its most recent closing price, will join the replacement list. The Exchange will publicly announce such changes to investors, Dr. Kobsak concluded.

SET will also exclude a constituent stock from an index when it is suspended for 20 trading days or more.

Thai depository responds to amended Securities and Exchange Act

In response to recent amendments to the Securities and Exchange Act B.E. 2535, Thailand Securities Depository Co., Ltd. (TSD) has undertaken extensive consultations with its members and more than 100 securities companies, custodians and commercial banks.

TSD listened closely to a variety of opinions on the operational and regulatory adjustments required to comply with the new act, TSD Chief Executive Officer Sopawadee Lertmanaschai said.

The legislative changes, effective from March 5, 2008 affect the depository’s operations in the following ways:

1. In establishing operational rules and regulations concerning the clearing house, securities depository and securities registrar, TSD must now comply with the conditions specified by the Capital Market Supervisory Board (a newly-established part of the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC), as must other businesses. This consent replaces those of The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) and of the SEC.
2. Clearing houses shall become central counter-parties (CCPs) to maintain the stability of the trading and clearing and settlement systems.

3. Clearing houses shall segregate collateral assets obtained from members and customers for clearing and settlement from other assets in order to avoid these other assets being vulnerable in cases of bankruptcy.
4. Any additional rules concerning the methods and consequences of using securities as collateral must apply to pledge securities in TSD’s scripless system, as required by law.
5. A lender can compel the selling of listed securities placed as collateral. The sale may be either by auction or through SET.

“TSD will adjust its rules and regulations to comply with the Capital Market Supervisory Board’s conditions and modify its processes and systems accordingly. We wish to assure our members that these changes will not significantly affect their operations,” Ms. Sopawadee noted.

“TSD had already prepared the way for CCP contracts prior to the legislative amendments and, in regard to asset segregation, the depository’s improved data filing system has been in effect since June 16, and we have been more actively promoting the scripless service to investors. We believe that these initiatives are comprehensive and beneficial and will increase the number of scripless customers,” Ms. Sopawadee concluded.

A leading LPG trader raises THB 2.24 billion at IPO

Mr. Worawit Weeraborwornpong
Vice Chairman and Executive

Siam Gas and Petrochemicals PCL, a leading local gas trader, started trading on The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET)'s Energy and Utilities sector in the Resources industry group on June 3, using "SGP" as its trading symbol. The firm raised THB 2.24 billion (about USD 67.46 million) that will be mainly used to repay loans and invest in overseas business expansion.

SGP provides LPG for households, automobiles and industrial plants

SGP is one of the largest liquid petroleum gas (LPG) traders in Thailand offering LPG, ammonia and other petrochemical products under the brand names "Siam Gas" and "Unique Gas". The company's products are targeted for three groups of customers with different usage purposes:

- * Cooking – customers who use LPG in cooking, including households, restaurants, hotels, and department stores.
- * Automobile gas – auto gas customers are auto gas stations located in Bangkok and other big cities, and automobiles using LPG, e.g., taxis, passenger cars and trucks.
- * Industrial usage – factories that use LPG in their manufacturing processes, such as glass, textile, steel and ceramic factories, or food centers in department stores.

"The firm's 2007 sales revenue structure was 60% from cooking gas, 29% from auto gas and the remaining 11% from industrial gas. In the future, the proportion might slightly change into 60% from cooking gas, 20% from the auto sector and the other 20% from the industrial sector. The market value will grow considerably due to the increasing number of households and automobiles," SGP Vice Chairman and Executive Worawit Weeraborwornpong said.

"Due to the global oil price crisis, LPG has become one of today's most important sources of auto fuel. The demand for the fuel has been increasing sharply in Thailand. Previously, about 5,000 private cars monthly installed LPG fuel systems. At present, the number has jumped to 25,000 cars per month. To meet consumption growth, the company has expanded its nationwide distribution channels and services, for example, by building 20 new auto gas stations in Bangkok and the provinces within 2010, and developing storage facilities with advanced technology," he explained.

Currently, SGP is the second largest LPG provider in Thailand, following PTT Group. SGP's market share is around 32%. For the local automobile gas sector only, the company is the leader, having over 50% of the total market share, Mr. Worawit noted.

Through its subsidiaries, SGP also provides transport of its products through a robust logistics network of delivery channels nationwide. The company holds a 99.99% stake in eight companies, namely, Chemicals Gas Transport Co., Ltd., Lucky Carrier Co., Ltd., Lucky Marine Co., Ltd., Unique Gas and Petrochemicals PCL, Unique Gas Carrier Co., Ltd., Unique Gas International Co., Ltd., Unique Gas Trading Co., Ltd. and Unique Marine Co., Ltd.

SGP raised THB 2.24 billion at IPO

The firm has paid-up registered capital of THB 950 million (USD 28.61 million), which consists of 670 million common shares and 280 million common capital increase shares, all at a par value of THB 1.00 per unit. At the initial public offering (IPO), on May 15-16 and 20-21, the company offered 130 million shares to the public and institutions, 130 million shares to SGP patrons, and 20 million shares to board members and employees, all at THB 8.00 per share. The firm raised THB 2.24 billion in total. Its financial consultant was Advisory Plus Co., Ltd. The IPO price reflected a price/earnings (P/E) ratio of 17.02, calculated on its 2007 net profit with fully-diluted earnings per share (EPS) of THB 0.47. These figures were based on THB 442.42 million (2007 net profit) and the total number of common shares (950 million) after the IPO.

"To expand its market base, the company is planning to build a LPG storage terminal and filling station in Vietnam. The project will require an initial investment of THB 400 million (USD 12 million) from the funds raised and will start operation by 2009. This is to penetrate the Hanoi market, which has high demand from increasing population growth," Mr. Worawit concluded.

SGP has a dividend payment policy of no less than 40% of its net profit after taxes. The company's major shareholder is Weeraborwornpong Group, which holds 66.76% of the firm's paid-up capital after IPO.
